Other Festivals

- Note: This programme is designed with specific dates to include a textile fair in Jaipur. However, the same programme can be operated without the textile fair any time of the year. Also there are other festivals which are celebrated with a lot of enthusiasm in these places. So these festivals can also be included as an added highlight to the journey:

Name of the festivals	Highlights of the festival	Dates for the coming year
Teej In Jaipur	Teej Festival has a great religious significance. Married women carry out the various rituals and pray to Goddess Parvati for the well being of their husband. The idol of Teej Mata is adorned with traditional jewellery & beautifully embroidered clothes. The festival also features a procession with the idol of Teej Mata.	05 August 2016
Jodhpur Sufi Festival	Sufism goes beyond religion. It's a direct connect with the Creator in the quest for personal enlightenment and self realization, transcending churches, temples, mosques and their rituals. It finds expression in mystical poetry, music and dance. Jodhpur Sufi Festival in Rajasthan brings together amazing artists from across India and around the world in a stunning royal setting.	February 2017
Holi in Jaipur	The ancient Hindu festival of Holi originated as a celebration of the end of winter and beginning of spring in honour of Prahlada, who was protected from the flames by Vishnu when he was tricked to his near death by his father King Hiranyakashipu. It also symbolise the triumph of good over evil, the importance of love and of happiness, and supports the formation of new friendships. Holi bring thousands of people out onto the streets in a dazzling display of colour and good cheer.	13 March 2017
