YOUR DESTINATION – Phnom Penh

Located at the confluence of the great Mekong, Bassac and Ton Le Sap Rivers, Phnom Penh is the political and commercial hub of Cambodia.

This bustling former colonial city offers cultural and historical attractions including the Royal Palace, Silver Pagoda and National Museum. Well worth a visit, Phnom Penh is also an important centre for communication and transportation within Cambodia.

Today, biggest city of the country with 1.5 million inhabitants, Phnom Penh is still galvanising and modernising.

YOUR DESTINATION – Siem Reap & Angkor Temples

Favourite destination for all travelers wishing to visit Cambodia, Siem Reap and Angkor temples make one, even if they are a few kilometers away from each other.

Angkor... It is more than 1000 temples scattered in the heart of a tropical forest, over hundreds of kilometers square. You will roam Angkor Wat, the biggest and the most famous of all ; you walk around Angkor City (Angkor Thom), from the Bayon temple smiles to the terraces, passing by Baphuon temple, an enigmatic mountain ; you will get lost within the giants kapoks of Ta Prohm ; you be amazed by Banteay Srei sculptures... VISIT PHNOM OUDONG

About 40 kilometers northwest of Phnom Penh along National Route 5, a mountain topped with the spires of stupas rears from the plain like a fairytale castle. This is Phnom Oudong, at one time an ancient capital.

As the capital, it was called Oudong Meanchey; Oudong means noble or excellent, and Meanchey means victory. From 1618 until 1866 it was home to a succession of kings, deposed from the former capital of Longvek by the invading Thais. The mountain itself runs from southeast to northeast, with a low saddle in the middle. Khmers say it has the shape of a Naga the magical multi-headed serpents that guard the Buddha. Along Route 5, signs point the way to silversmithing villages, a legacy of the past when kings and nobility used to come to the Tonle Sap to bathe and the people would offer them delicate gifts fashioned from the precious metal.

ACTIVITY – PHNOM PENH

VISIT THE ROYAL PALACE

The Royal Palace in Phnom Penh, is a complex of buildings that serves as residence to the King of Cambodia

His full name is Khmer Preah Barum Reachea Veang Chaktomuk. Kings of Cambodia occupied it since its construction in 1860, with a period of absence, when the country went into crisis during and after the Khmer Rouge period.

The palace was built after King Norodom I had moved the royal capital from Oudong to Phnom Penh in the mid nineteenth century. It was built in stages over the remains of an old citadel called Banteay Kev.

You will be amazed by the buildings whose structure is inspired by the Khmer sculpture, are oriented to the east, according to the sacred rules of construction and the exterior is painted in royal yellow. These works were carried out by French and Khmer architects.

ACTIVITY – PHNOM PENH

VISIT SILVER PAGODA

The Silver Pagoda is located in the southern portion of the Royal Palace complex. The pagoda was formerly known as Wat Uborsoth Rotannaram because it is where the King worshiped, prayed and practiced every Buddhist Silas Day.

Along the way, you can stop at any time to take pictures or talk with the locals, an experience that will make your trip more interesting and rewarding.

In Khmer, this means of transport is called “Rotes Koh”, which literally translates as “ox cart”. As its name indicates, it is a 2-wheel wooden cart drawn by cows or oxen, the Cambodian farmers’ archaic but traditional means of transport. Still often seen in the countryside, the ox carts are used to carry rice crops or to travel from the farm to the field or the forests.

This unusual experience at the heart of Cambodian farming life will be a once-in-a-lifetime experience thanks to the encounters you will have with the welcoming villagers and the picturesque landscapes you will pass along the way: rice fields, cattle grazing, corn fields, and so on... Let yourself be guided by these oxen as they lead you along various paths and routes depending on your programme and discover a truly authentic Cambodia.

You can choose to go from Roluos Temples to the Roluos school or from the school to the Temples, on a 2km ride that will last around 30 minutes. The most impressive temple of the Roluos groups is Bakong temple, constructed by the third Angkorian-era King as his state-temple and which set the architectural tone for the next 400 years.

Yet Beng Mealea is dominated by jungle and dressed and here, as in Ta Prohm, creates a true symbiosis between stone and vegetation. Away from the bustle of the other temples, you will discover lintels and other pieces of carved stones littering the ground and, just for a moment, you take yourself to dream you are the first explorer of this temple
