The Meat Processing Industry of the Primorska region, better known as MIP (Mestna industrija Primorske) built it for the purpose of drying the prosciutto hams. At the same time, the Industry also built and furnished an additional room dedicated to prosciutto tasting.

Wanting to improve their offer, in 2006, the company MIP rearranged the tasting room into a restaurant that offers more than just the prosciutto ham.

Simo Komel joined the project as an outside expert and contributed to the fulfillment of the plans with his many years of experience. In 2009, the company MIP was declared bankrupt. At that time, the company Lemo, headed by Simo

Komel, rented the restaurant Kraljestvo pršuta which made it possible to continue its strategic vision of a modern Karst cuisine.

CULTURAL VISIT OF BLED ISLAND – IN CASE OF ICE ON THE LAKE THE EVENT CANNOT TAKE PLACE

RIDE TO BLED'S ISLAND BY TRADITIONAL PLETNA BOAT

Pletna is a name for a 7-meter long and 2-meter wide wooden boat. The credit for that goes to the skilled boat carpenters from the village Mlino. First notes in the church books go back to the middle ages of the 12 century when 20 families have received so called servitude rights for transport people to the island.

SHORT CONCERT OF ANCIENT SLAVIC GODDESS ZIVA

On the island you can be welcomed by the ancient Slavic goddess Ziva. According to a legend, the temple of the goddess Ziva, once stood in the place of the current Baroque church on Bled Island.. Priest Staroslav and his daughter Bogomila guarded it when her love Crtomir came to the island. The temple disappeared during battles between the followers of the pagan religion and Christians, who destroyed the altar and built a church. Bogomila stayed in the new church with her father, while Crtomir, after his baptism near the Savica waterfall, went to Aquilea and became a missionary of the Aquilean patriarch among Slovenes. Slovenians are now mostly catholic. We can bring back the times of the past with the song of goddess Ziva in the church. The artist dressed in a Goddess will sing a song . POTICA – a traditional pastry, is a must for every holiday in Slovenia, be it Christmas, Easter or a family celebration.

Since Slovenia boasts a wealth of culturally diverse regions with a variety of culinary traditions, there is a whole range of potica pastries to be found here, from simple nut rolls to veritable masterpieces with lavish fillings. The filling for this exquisite pastry is entirely up to the baker and his or her creativity – there are as many delicious potica recipes as there are housewives and cooks. And the little secrets that are so important for making a good potica are passed down through generations.

Walnut potica is the most common and popular type; traditionally it should be baked inside a bread oven in a POTIČNICA – a round, clay baking dish, usually handmade and modelled on the crown of Jesus Christ. This is how the most delicious potica pastries are baked.
