The Fairytale island of Funen

Funen

This is Funen (Fyn), only 1½ hours' drive from Copenhagen, the Fairy tale island of Denmark. The island offers several activities, charming castles, beautiful nature, small local micro producers and the footprints of Hans Christian Andersen.

Funen also hosts a lot of small craftsmen because of the inspiring nature. You find designer hats, ceramics and sculptures. The local chefs also find inspiration for their cooking and you will discover many local delicacies like cheese, honey and beer. Many farm shops sell their products to our groups. The island is ideally explored in self-drive vintage cars and a vintage theme dinner can be arranged at one of the castles.

The South Funen archipelago can be reached by boat or a chartered schooner and great walks or bicycle programs can be arranged with local guides.

You find Lyø town and the church with the round cemetery right in the middle of the island. The narrow streets are interspersed with beautiful old half-timbered houses and five village ponds. Many of the town houses are from the 18th century, and some are even older. Lyø city is one of the most exciting village environments in Denmark.

The water around Bjørnø attracts both anglers and bathers. There is no actual port on Bjørnø, but a jetty with 10 seats. Bjørnø is very hilly with a peak of 24 meters above sea level. A large number of duck and waders breed on the Strandengene and in the marsh in the middle of the island.

Avernakø is known for its Mai tree and Mai rod, which can be seen in Avernak and Munke. Once a year, Pentecost Saturday, residents gather around the tree. In addition to Strynø, the may tree is only found on Avernakø.

You could also take music on the tour. The trip is a wonderful experience in itself, but if it gets seasoned with live music, you get an event in another league.
